

Content audit — /final home vs. v1 home

Reviewer: Senior UX (product design team) Reference URLs:

- New: <https://allsaints-redesign.nate-ernst7.workers.dev/final>
- v1: <https://allsaints-redesign.nate-ernst7.workers.dev/v1>

How to use this doc: Each item shows the current /final copy, an "Adopt from v1" alternative, and the team's one-line rationale. Mark each item with your decision. Where the recommendation conflicts with a prior decision you made, I've flagged it in a note.

The Visit page is excluded — it was already rebuilt with v1's content depth.

1. Hero subtitle

Current /final:

A vibrant, welcoming community where everyone has a place at the table. Rooted in tradition. Alive in the Spirit.

Better option (v1):

A faith community where Jesus' love, forgiveness, and healing is changing lives. Join us this Sunday.

Why: v1 names what's actually happening to people; /final's version describes the church's self-image with generic adjectives ("vibrant", "alive in the Spirit") that mean nothing concrete.

Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

2. Welcome block, first paragraph

Current /final:

At All Saints, you won't find a perfect church. You'll find a real one, full of people learning to love God and each other, one Sunday at a time. We've been gathering in Concord since 1878, and the door is wide open for you.

Better option (v1-derived hybrid):

Whether you are visiting from afar or have lived in Concord your whole life, you are welcome here. We are a faith community where God's love meets you exactly where you are.

Why: "You won't find a perfect church" is a cliché that forces the reader to sit with a negative before reaching the positive; v1 leads with direct welcome and grounds it in place.

My note: This is praised copy from earlier sessions — you've explicitly defended the "real church" framing. The team is suggesting a real downgrade in distinctiveness. I'd lean keep, but flagging.

Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

3. Welcome block — add a "first-visit practical info" paragraph

Current /final: scatters service times, location, kids, accessibility across multiple sections.

Better option (v1):

Our 9 AM service in the Parish Hall is casual and family-friendly. Our 11:10 AM service in the Nave features choir and organ. Both are Holy Eucharist, Rite II, and both are livestreamed. Nursery available for infants and toddlers. Accessible entrances on all sides.

Why: v1 puts all first-visit practical info in one paragraph inside the Welcome block, where a newcomer needs it before scrolling. /final hides it across worship + visit cards.

Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

4. Welcome block, Diocese paragraph

Current /final:

We are a parish of the Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina. The Rev. John Johanssen serves as our Interim Rector while the vestry's search for our next rector is underway.

Better option (v1):

A parish of the Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina since 1878. The Rev. Nancy Cox served as our rector through 2025; The Rev. John Johanssen began as Interim Rector on January 1, 2026, while the vestry's search for our next rector is underway.

Why: v1's version tells the full transition story instead of pretending the current state is natural; the context makes Fr. John feel like a trusted bridge rather than an unexplained placeholder.

My note: This reverses item #8 from this morning's batch, where you decided to drop the Nancy Cox mention. Worth re-debating: foreground the present (your earlier call) vs. tell the full story (UX's call). Episcopal precedent goes both ways.

Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

5. Stats row, fourth stat

Current /final: 2 · Books We Gather Around

Better option: 5 · Music Ensembles (currently buried in the Rector Search section body copy)

Why: "Books We Gather Around" is too cryptic to display as a homepage stat, and 2 is a weak number. "5 Music Ensembles" is real, surprising, specific — and signals cultural richness.

Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

6. Worship section subtitle

Current /final heading: "Two Services. One Community." Current /final sub: "However you connect with God, there's a service that feels like home."

Better option (UX rewrite):

Both services are Holy Eucharist, Rite II. One is casual and family-friendly; one is traditional with choir and organ. Both are real.

Why: "feels like home" is filler. Naming the actual liturgical form (Rite II) and what's distinct about each is more honest and gives newcomers real information.

Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

7. Community bento, "Serve" card

Current /final:

Food drives, Cooperative Christian Ministry, pastoral care visits.

Better option (v1 + specificity):

Extending God's love by caring for our neighbors and community. Our Lenten food drive, Cooperative Christian Ministry partnership, and pastoral care teams are where faith gets hands and feet.

Why: /final's version reads like a bullet point that got de-bulleted — no subject, no verb, no warmth.

Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

8. Events section heading

Current /final: "Coming Up at All Saints"

Better option (v1): "Life at All Saints"

Why: v1's heading frames events as a window into parish life, not a calendar announcement. "Coming Up" is scheduling language; "Life at" is invitational.

Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

9. Clergy section heading

Current /final: "Meet the People Who Walk With You"

Better option (v1): "Meet the people who lead us"

Why: "walk with you" is generic; "lead us" is honest about the clergy role and carries the theological weight of community (us, not you).

Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

10. Clergy bio lines

UX flagged 4 of 4. Two are weak ("filler"), two are good ("keep"):

- The Rev. John Johanssen — current: "Loves sailing, hiking, and the joy of watching a parish come alive." → suggested: "An experienced interim with specialized training in transition ministry. Began as our Interim Rector on January 1, 2026."
- Why: hobby list reads like filler; the transition-ministry credential is what newcomers actually need to know.
- Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid
- The Rev. Dr. Jim Bernacki — current: "Coordinates our beloved Tuesday Compline and brings calm to every room." → keep as-is.

- The Rev. Mary Elizabeth Reese — current: "Eleven grandchildren and a heart big enough for the whole parish." → suggested: "A Priest Associate whose pastoral warmth has been woven into this parish for years."
- Why: "Eleven grandchildren" is affectionate but content-free.
- Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid
- The Rev. Vern Cahoon — current: "Brings pastoral care to nursing homes and a warm smile to everyone he meets." → keep as-is.

11. Staff section heading

Current /final: "Our Ministry Team"

Better option (v1): "The people who keep things going"

Why: v1 is honest, unpretentious, warm; "Ministry Team" reads as corporate church-speak.

My note: This reverses item #14 from this morning's batch, where you flagged "The people who keep things going" as feeling belittling for full-time staff (Brian, Tiffany, Erin). Senior UX has now reversed the team's earlier call. Your original instinct was the dignity concern; their re-read is that the phrase is warm rather than diminishing. You should call this one — both readings are defensible.

Decision: ☐ keep ("Our Ministry Team") ☐ revert ("The people who keep things going") ☐ hybrid ("Our Team" / "Our Staff")

12. Staff bio lines

UX flagged 1 of 4:

- Ruth Brown — current: "The bulletin, the Weekly Word, the rhythm of telling our story." → suggested: "Writes the bulletin, edits the Weekly Word, and keeps the rhythm of parish communication."
- Why: current is a fragment masquerading as a sentence.
- Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

Brian, Tiffany, Erin: keep as-is.

13. Rector Search section subtitle

Bug, not preference: "All Saints" is in a season of careful discernment as we listen for the next priest called to lead this parish." appears verbatim twice — once as the subtitle under the heading, and again as the first body paragraph inside the white card.

Fix: keep it only once, in the card body. Use the v1 pattern instead — let the section label ("Where We Are") + heading carry the top, and the body card carry the substance.

Decision: ☐ apply fix ☐ keep duplicated

14. Connect CTA body copy

Current /final:

Whether you're ready to walk through the door this Sunday or just want to follow along from afar, we'd love to stay in touch.

Better option (v1):

Whether you want to worship, volunteer, join a small group, or simply find community, there is a place for you here.

Why: v1 lists specific forms of belonging (worship, volunteer, small group, community). /final's "follow along from afar" positions the reader as a passive observer and undersells the invitation.

Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

15. Connect CTA bottom button

Current /final: five social cards + a bottom button "Join Us This Sunday" (which duplicates the hero button).

Better option (v1): two-button structure — Connect With Us + Support Our Mission

Why: the bottom of the Connect section shouldn't repeat the "show up Sunday" push from the hero. It's where people who've already decided to engage go deeper. v1's two buttons serve newcomers (Connect) and existing members (Support) distinctly.

Decision: ☐ keep ☐ adopt ☐ hybrid

Summary

#	Item	Type
1	Hero subtitle	Copy swap
2	Welcome paragraph 1	Copy swap (conflicts with praised-copy rule)
3	Add first-visit info paragraph	Add content
4	Diocese paragraph (Nancy Cox)	Reverses item #8 from this morning
5	Stats row	Replace one stat
6	Worship subtitle	Rewrite
7	Serve bento card	Rewrite
8	Events heading	Copy swap
9	Clergy heading	Copy swap
10	Clergy bios (×2 weak)	Rewrite John + Mary
11	Staff heading	Reverses item #14 from this morning
12	Ruth Brown bio	Rewrite
13	Rector Search dup'd line	Bug fix
14	Connect CTA copy	Copy swap
15	Connect bottom button	Restructure

The fast wins (no conflicts with prior decisions, clear improvements): #5, #7, #8, #10 (John + Mary), #12, #13, #14, #15.

The ones to debate at the meeting: #2, #4, #11.

The ones that need user judgment: #1, #3, #6, #9.